Free Dental Camp at Future World School, DHA Peshawar

Northwest General Hospital & Research Centre proudly hosted an impactful Climate Change Awareness Session on 30th April 2026, reaffirming the vital connection between environmental sustainability and human well-being. We were honored to host Professor Dr. Shafiq Ur Rehman, Former Advisor of Quality Assurance to the Government of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Former Chairman of the Department of Environmental Sciences at University of Peshawar. In his enlightening address, he highlighted the far-reaching effects of climate change on human health, ecosystems, and communities.

At Northwest General Hospital & Research Centre, we recognize that climate change is a global challenge that demands immediate and sustained action.

Together, through awareness, innovation, and collective action, we can help create a greener, safer, and more sustainable future for generations to come.

NWGH Hosts an Impactful Climate Change Awareness Session

Northwest General Hospital & Research Centre successfully organized a Free Dental Camp at Future World School, DHA Peshawar, benefiting over 100 school students with complimentary dental check-ups and diagnostic services. The hospital's dedicated dental team and administration also distributed free dental care kits, including toothpaste, mouthwash, and hand sanitizers, to promote healthy habits among students. The camp was led by renowned Family & General Dentist Dr. Leena Arshad, who provided evidence-based dental care in pediatric, restorative, and aesthetic dentistry, ensuring quality and compassionate treatment.
